

$1 A DAY CASH BONUS PROPOSED BY HOUSE COMMITTEE

Plan to Raise the Money by Taxing Sales One Half of One Per Cent

Bonus to be Limited to Those Who Endured Financial Sacrifices During the War

HERBERT WALKER
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, April 13—A cash bonus of $1.00 for each day's service to be given to approximately 3,000,000 of the 4,800,000 in the army, navy and marine corps during the war is a plan that has been approved by the bonus committee of the house ways and means committee, it was learned today.

The program, which will be submitted to the full committee for approval during this week, calls for an expenditure of slightly less than one billion dollars, which is to be raised by a tax of one-half of one percent on sales, it is proposed. It is believed likely that this plan will be the one which will be submitted to the house in the near future.

With the proposition of limiting the bonus to those who endured severe financial sacrifices during the war, the subcommittee has eliminated several classes of service men from the group entitled to benefits, the total men eliminated being estimated at 1,800,000.

Among these classes are:
Those who served less than sixty days, because these men have already received the original $60 bonus.
Men who were assigned to industrial plants such as ship building and received extra compensations therefor.

All officers.
Men in the regular army before the declaration of war.

Men who while in the army received compensations from their employers or business interests.

No man would be given the bonus until he applies for it, and this, it is believed, would reduce the total expenditures, as many service men who have wealth are not expected to ask extra compensation. The application is to contain an affidavit that the soldier is not in any of the above classes.

The plan calls for payment of the bonus in four equal installments, and sales taxes are to be collected in corresponding periods.

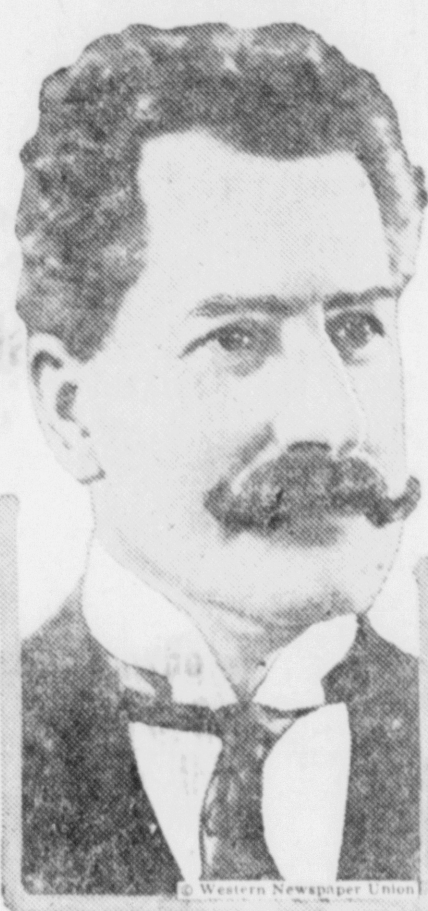

The average service, the subcommittee has been informed, is ten months, making the average bonus about $300. Men who were promoted to commissioned officers would be paid only for the time they served as enlisted men. The committee is now asking for estimates from the treasury department as to exactly how much can be raised on taxes on sales by preliminary estimates, placing the amount at about $1,500,000,000. The levying of this tax, also, would be in the nature of experimenting, as the sentiment in congress is for replacement of other taxes later.

Under the committee's plan all business with total sales of less than $2,500 a year, and all small farmers should be exempted. The tax would not be paid by stamps. The levy to be simply all business concerns at the end of every three months would pay one-half of one percent of their total sales. An advocate of the tax, claims that it would not increase the cost of living in any considerable degree, and it would amount to only 50c on every $100.

Special Claims For Service Men Suffering From Shell Shock

St. Paul, April 13—Special investigation of the bonus claims of service men suffering from shell shock, and who for other reasons are in insane hospitals, will be begun shortly. Mr. McKingsley, of the state bonus board, will conduct the investigation. About thirty service men are in the insane hospital at Fergus Falls at present. The number in other hospitals was not available today.

State of Sonora Secedes from Mexico

Because the General Government Sent Troops Into State Without the State's Consent

Nogales, Ariz., April 13—The secession of the Mexican state of Sonora was caused by the "hostile act" of the federal government of Mexico in sending troops into Sonora without the consent of the state authorities, according to a statement given the United Press today by General De La Huerta, governor of Sonora.

"I beg to request that you make the following explanation," he told the correspondent:

"The stand taken by the state of Sonora is against the unjust attacks on our sovereignty that has been made by the central government without taking into consideration the repeated petitions which have been made to the federal executives by the state legislature, municipal legislature and numerous citizens requesting suspension of hostilities. The central government has continued with unnecessary and hostile acts and sent troops into Sonora."

Mexican Consul E. Tamez, at Nogales, has announced that his office is now under the authority of the state of Sonora.

Pass Army Bill Today

Washington, April 13—Passage of the army reorganization bill by the senate was expected today following the defeat late yesterday of the senate amendment which desired to strip the measure of all provision for training citizen soldiers.

Spread of Strike Checked Today

No Reports of New Walk Outs Being Made—Men Returning to Work in Some Places

Washington, D. C., April 13—Executive officials of the government attempted to halt the "outlaw" strike of railroad men.

President Wilson appointed the railroad labor board which is expected to start an investigation of the strike as soon as it can be organized.

President Wilson also called a cabinet meeting for tomorrow at which time the situation is to be discussed.

Attorney General Palmer wired the presidents of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads asking them for a complete list of strikers and the names of the men believed responsible for direction of the strike. Palmer's act was regarded as the first step toward invoking criminal action under the Lever act if it became necessary.

Before a labor railroad board can operate, it must be confirmed by the senate. The nomination of the members of the board reached the senate shortly after noon and were later referred to the interstate commerce committee.

The names were divided among members of the committee who were instructed to "check up" all the qualifications of the appointees.

Senator Cummins, chairman of the committee, said he hoped the board would be confirmed by tomorrow. Once the board is confirmed it can immediately begin investigation of the strike on its own motion.

Under the Esch-Cummins law by which the board was created, its headquarters was placed in Chicago. The committee today was preparing to ask an amendment so the board can work in Washington where many of the papers and records prepared for its use now are. If investigation is started promptly, Cummins said he believed the men will return to work while the investigation is still going on.

Spread of the outlaw strike of railroad labor was checked today.

After its rapid growth throughout the country the strike situation was marked by cessation of reports of walkouts of any consequence.

Independent conferences were held in many places in an attempt to reach a settlement. The majority of the strikers in Syracuse, N. Y., returned to their positions. Strikers were also reported returning in Chicago and other western centers.

Federal investigation of the strike by the department of justice was under way in railroad centers and Attorney General Palmer was reviewing the situation.

Appointment of a labor board provided by the Cummins-Esch bill was expected to be made today by President Wilson.

Industries were beginning to feel the effects of the strike seriously. Shortage of coal and raw material were forcing hundreds of industries to shut down completely, while others curtailed operation.

The food situation was reported serious in some cities and mails were

Shopmen Walk Out in Cleveland

Cleveland, April 13—Approximately 250 shopmen and car inspectors walked out here today in sympathy with the striking switchmen, and 1500 more will walk out Thursday at 2 o'clock, strike leaders announced today. They said the shopmen and car inspectors voted secretly to strike.

Shopmen Won't Endorse Strike

Kansas City, Mo., April 13—Spread of the "outlaw" switchmen's strike in the west may depend today on action expected to be taken by representatives of more than one million railroad shopmen and clerks attending the biennial convention of the American Federation of Labor here.

Leaders declared there isn't a chance of the convention endorsing the "outlaw strike." Radicals however persisted in pushing the movement to get the convention's endorsement.

Government ownership of railroads was advocated in the resolution submitted to the convention today.

Other resolutions approved were "wage increases proportionate to the advance of living costs, Sunday off and time and half overtime."

The convention will take up requests concerning wage increases and working conditions to be made before the federal labor board April 28.

Board's Appointment Pleases Labor Leaders

Chicago, April 13—News of the appointment of the members of the railroad labor board was greeted with satisfaction by railroad labor leaders here today.

ship will have a very effective and beneficial result throughout the country," said S. E. Heberling, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America.

"It will have the tendency to stop the spread of the strike and will cause many to return to work."

"The appointment will have a wholesome effect," said A. K. Whitner, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. "I think it will have the tendency to get the men back to work right away and break the strike in a few days."

Whitner said he had no fault to find with the personnel of the board. He expressed praise over the appointment of J. H. Forrester, Wharton and Phillips as representatives of labor.

Wood Gives Up Leave of Absence

(By United Press)

Boston, April 13—General Wood has given up his leave of absence and cancelled all speaking engagements. It was announced today at the Wood campaign headquarters here. He will resume his duties as commander of the central department of the army.

General Wood was given three months' leave of absence in which to tour the country speaking in behalf of his candidacy for the republican nomination for president.

The leave of absence was not scheduled to expire until early in June, just before the national convention. Wood has given up his leave of absence, it was announced, because of the critical situation brought about by the railroad strike.

Composed of Three Men Representing Managers, Employes and the Public

(By United Press)

Washington, April 13—President Wilson today appointed the railroad labor board which the Esch-Cummins bill creates as a final authority in the railway wage dispute.

The men named are:
Public representatives—G. W. W. Hanger, Washington; Henry Hunt, ex-mayor of Cincinnati, and R. M. Barton of Tennessee.

Labor representatives—Albert Phillips, A. O. Wharton and James J. Forrester.

Managers' representatives—Horace Baker, J. H. Elliot and Wm. L. Park. Under the terms of the Esch-Cummins law the board is a tri-part body. The railroad representatives and the managers appoint three members as substitutes to be approved by the president, who appoints three members to represent the public.

Germany's Action Unnecessary

HENRY WOOD,

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Paris, April 13—Both the allied military commission and the German institution opposed Germany's action in sending Reichswehr troops into the Ruhr district, Premier Millerand told the chamber of deputies today.

Germany's action was unnecessary and dangerous he said in detailing the necessity for France's occupation of the German Rhine cities.

The chamber was expected to give the premier government a strong vote of confidence following Millerand's speech.

German Troops Evacuate Ruhr District

(United Press)

Paris, April 13—The German delegation here today confirmed reports that the evacuation of the Ruhr district by Reichswehr troops had begun.

Troops were leaving the district today, the Germans said. Withdrawal of the Reichswehr will be continued until the number is reduced to that provided by the August protocol agreement, which allowed the German government to keep a certain number of troops in the Ruhr district for police duty.

Former German Empress Seriously Ill

(By United Press)

Berlin, April 13—The former empress of Germany is seriously ill at her retreat in Holland and death is expected shortly, the Deutsche Tages Zeitung said today.

The former empress of Germany has been reported seriously ill several times during recent years. Shortly before the close of the war she was given up by specialists in Berlin. Her health was said to have become worse when the imperial couple fled from Berlin to Holland. Recent dispatches said her old physician had been called from Berlin. She is suffering from heart trouble and a complication of other diseases.

Vast Throng of Prosperous Germans at Race Course Near Berlin

In view of recent developments in Germany, the size of the vast crowd which attended the horse races at Mariendorf, near Berlin, less than a week before the von Kapp revolution, is surprising. Those in the throng seem very well dressed and everyone looks prosperous. If they are worried by what German statesmen have called the "harsh" terms of the peace treaty, their appearance belies their feelings.

BETTER MAIL SERVICE
BRAINERD-MINNEAPOLIS

A new department recently organized in the Minneapolis postoffice has made possible a greatly improved mail service between Minneapolis and Brainerd.

The postoffice department has recently given the Minneapolis office additional equipment and additional clerical assistance for the purpose of installing a direct distribution of parcel post to the most important towns of Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana.

The basement of the Minneapolis postoffice has been remodelled and 40,000 square feet of floor space equipped with the latest type of pouch and sack racks, one section of which has been assigned to this city because of the large amount of mail that is dispatched to it from Minneapolis.

Parcel post from Minneapolis concerns is brought into this new department and is distributed for those principal towns and dispatched direct to trains.

This means that orders filed by Minneapolis business houses will go forward without delay in terminal or depots and invariably will be in the hands of the merchant the same day or the next day after being shipped from the city.

This is postal service par excellence, from which the business interests of Brainerd and the firms with which they do business in Minneapolis will benefit.

As rapidly as the volume of mail warrants, other towns and cities of the states mentioned will be given a place in the scheme and will have sacks made to them direct, thus speeding up their service from Minneapolis.

Pare the orange with a sharp knife, removing every particle of the thin inside membrane with the peel. This will leave the orange pulp exposed. Hold the orange over a plate, so that any juice which may drop will be saved. Insert the point of the knife at the stem end of the orange, close to the membrane that divides the sections. Carefully work the knife in, separating the membrane from the section. Then carefully separate the section of orange from the membrane on its other side; remove the whole orange section, complete in shape and entirely free from membrane. Repeat until all the sections are removed.

CHILDREN'S CLINIC
LARGELY ATTENDED

67 Children Were Examined, 20 Turned Away Because of Lack Of Time to Examine

MILD RICKETS WAS FOUND

Dietary Adjustment Will Quickly Remove that Trouble, Many Children Had Colds

The Children's Clinic held here April 12th can be judged a most successful one, both in attendance and interest. Dr. W. Ray Shannon, representing the Northwest Pediatric Society, assisted by Miss L. L. Christensen, a nurse from the Minnesota Public Health Association, conducted the examinations of the children, beginning half an hour earlier than scheduled and continuing until 6:30 p. m., the last patient being rushed in at closing time by the mother who refused to cancel her appointment. Sixty-seven children were examined, and at least fifteen or twenty were turned away on account of the lack of time. The majority of the mothers were much interested in the advice given, and it is hoped that many babies will profit through the information.

Mild rickets was found in a very large proportion of the children, either evidences of old rickets or beginning cases, none serious. Rickets is combated mostly by means of dietary adjustment. In infants this means feeding regularly every four hours, five times a day, and, if necessary waking the baby up for it. At six months, the giving of solid foods, such as well-cooked cereals and vegetables, should be started. The baby should be weaned at nine or nine and a half months, unless this be in the hot summer. The best substitute for breast milk is a modification of cow's milk, adjusted to suit the condition of the child. The milk should be boiled three minutes. All artificially fed babies should be given orange juice at two months or over, beginning with a teaspoonful and gradually increasing according to age.

A large number of the children had colds. Colds are germ diseases spread by contact. Children should not be fondled or approached by persons with colds because of the danger of infection.

Attention was called to the care of children's teeth. It is very important that they be well taken care of from the very beginning as that has a great bearing on the general health of growing children. Caries in infants' teeth should be filled.

In all children, the importance of tonsils and adenoids cannot be overestimated. They should be carefully watched to forestall bad results.

An equally successful clinic was held at Crosby, April 11th, where fifty-five babies were examined. Another clinic will be held at Pequot April 13th. These clinics are arranged for and financed by the Crow Wing County Public Health Association who are planning to hold similar ones every three months.

POLITICAL TIES
LESS BINDING

PEOPLE SEEM MORE INTERESTED IN PRINCIPLES THAN INDIVIDUALS.

POLITICIANS ARE ANXIOUS

Deeply Concerned Over Reports That if Conventions Do Not Do What Voters Think They Should New Party May Be Formed.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington. — Approximately one-third of the delegates to each of the national political conventions have now been chosen. The interest in the election of delegates is largely confined to the Republican party, because every one of the candidates for the Republican nomination is trying to get as many instructed delegates as possible. On the Democratic side the policy is to choose uninstructed delegates, and while two or three men who are in a certain sense candidates for the Democratic nomination are interested in the selection of delegates, not one of them is making an actual fight.

The most competent political observers are now of the opinion that the Republican convention, as well as the Democratic convention, will be open, in the sense that no candidate will go into the convention with anything like enough votes to nominate him on the first ballot. Such a situation always lends zest to a convention, and so it is a foregone conclusion that the gathering at Chicago on June 8 and the meeting at San Francisco on June 28 will hold the undivided attention of the country for a few days. The old-timers in politics are making the observation that they cannot recall a more mixed situation in each of the old parties two months prior to the opening of the convention season.

Ties Less Binding.

The well seasoned political writers who are touring the country, almost without exception report that political ties are less binding, apparently than ever before; that the masses of the voters seem to be interested in principles to a greater extent than ever before and less in personalities, individuals. The professional politicians in both the parties are not attempting to hide a good deal of concern which they feel over the incoming reports to the effect that if the two conventions do not do what the masses of the voters believe they should do there might be another effort made to form a new party. No one takes this talk very seriously and yet there is no question but what it is being indulged in to some extent.

It does seem to be a fact that there is being voiced more than ever before an objection to the so-called professional politicians picking the candidates for president. It is this manifestation that is putting so much life into the contests for delegates in the states that have provided presidential preference primary laws.

Neither of the old political parties is quite certain at this time what it will put in its national platform. Neither can say, for instance, whether the treaty of peace with Germany, and the League of Nations covenant in particular, will be an issue in the campaign. Ever since the treaty went down to defeat for a second time in the senate the politicians in both the parties have been trying to figure out how the treaty and the league covenant could be presented as an issue, and no one has as yet come forward with any plan satisfactory. The truth is that so far as the national organizations of the two old parties are concerned there is still the desire to have the treaty disposed of before the national convention season comes on.

As to Platform Building.

Of course it will not be difficult for either of the old parties to agree on the generalities that will go in its platform. It is settled in advance that the Republicans will criticize the eight years of Democratic rule, while the Democrats will point with pride to the things accomplished during the eight-year period. The statesmen agree that on many of the questions that need to divide the two parties there is no longer much of a gulf. The tariff is a case in point. One senator remarked the other day that the two conventions could adopt identical tariff planks and each could satisfy its followers. On many domestic questions there is not much difference of opinion, and even on the international problems of the day there is no clear line of demarcation. It is pointed out.

Within a few weeks the national committees will announce the names of the men who will figure prominently in each of the national conventions. It is within the province of each national committee to choose the temporary officers and it usually expresses in a private way a choice for permanent officers so as to enable the men chosen an opportunity to prepare. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, it seems now, will probably be the temporary chairman of the Republican convention at Chicago, and if present plans are carried out Vice President Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana will either be the temporary chairman or the permanent chairman of the Democratic convention at San Francisco. Each national committee will soon be prepared to announce its plans for hearing the contests for delegate seats. No national political convention would be complete without a series of contests.

ROUTING TRAINS THROUGH BRAINERD

The editorial in the Dispatch of Monday evening on the plan of routing two main line trains through Brainerd and thus diverting to this section considerable travel which in the past has never seen this region, is an idea which caused considerable attention and comment.

It means a difference of 30 miles in train mileage for the company. On the other hand it will bring to Brainerd and this section much summer tourist travel.

Here's another angle to look at. If the price of gasoline is to advance to prohibitive heights and a shortage also occur, people will travel by train instead of automobile. A summer vacation once spent in the lake region will be repeated whether the vacationist travels by automobile or train.

Routing those two main line passenger trains through Brainerd will bring this town to the attention of main line travel which probably never before saw this town or section.

It means getting range business to travel via Northern Pacific to the Twin Cities.

A concerted effort should be made to get those two trains before May as that is the usual period when railroads get out their time tables. If town and shops and countryside join in the appeal to the passenger department of the Northern Pacific, we may get those two trains for Brainerd and they mean a lot for Brainerd.

Without a bit of friction Sunday afternoon and evening the main line passenger trains traveled via Brainerd because of the Cushing wreck and travelers took a good look at Brainerd, the new depot, and surroundings. Several commented on the fact that the Northern Pacific depot, situated near court house, city hall, Park theatre, hotels, etc., was certainly in the heart of the city and that the depot shone out like a diadem of stars in the night.

Let's get those main line passenger trains for Brainerd!

COOTIE ARITHMETIC

Maudie Ballington Booth in the presence of an audience of sailors and soldiers, declared that while in France she had learned "cootie arithmetic." She defined that particular branch of military mathematics as she had heard it defined over there:

"They add to your troubles. They subtract from your pleasures. They divide your attention. And multiply like hell."

WHAT WAS MOTIVE?

The efforts of the average man to get religion these days is to be commended and especially so if he seeks to carry out in his daily life the teachings of the Master.

But to fathom the motive of the Chicago thief who stole 120,000 Bibles is a deep study. The prison society valued the lost Bibles at $37,500. They were carried away in a moving van.

FARMERS JOIN POTATO EXCHANGE

Representative and Progressive Gathering of Farmers Assembled in Akeley Votes to Do So

AUXILIARY TO BE FORMED

Hugh J. Hughes, Market Director of State Department of Agriculture, Addressed Farmers (Akeley Herald)

The leading and most progressive farmers of Akeley and vicinity assembled at Village Hall, and unanimously voted to organize an auxiliary of the Minnesota Potato Growers' Exchange, which is practically a counterpart of the Michigan marketing plan.

Hugh J. Hughes, market director of the State Department of Agriculture, and one of the farm magazine writers in the country, was present and delivered a clean-cut talk on marketing that met with the hearty approval of the farmers. He made it clear that it was up to the grower himself to make a success of the cooperative enterprise by binding themselves together in a substantial, business-like manner. The cooperative creamery had not succeeded simply because the farmers had not made their agreements, and were demoralized by the outside cream buyer. This plan is backed by the member's bond as well as his stock, likewise the local unit in its membership in the state unit. Mr. Hughes met every question with a straight, convincing answer.

County Agent A'Banion explained the Michigan plan in detail and was given the closest attention by every man present, who in turn gave him a nod of approval.

B. L. Perry of Badoura presided at the meeting and gave the organization a splendid endorsement in a neat little address. J. W. Dahlquist was elected secretary.

Chas. Anderson, president of the Hubbard County Farm Bureau, Fred Clark, Olof Skoog, George Markel and other were on their feet with suggestions and approval of the plan.

Mayer Matt Ostrom, made the shortest and most substantial talk of the day, when asked by Olof Skoog and the chair as to the position the State Bank of Akeley would take in standing back of the farmers' paper in financing the new enterprise. "The State Bank of Akeley will stand with the farmers in this proposition," said Mr. Ostrom, amid great applause.

The hall was packed with men who mean business and who presented a solid united front—the dawn of a era in Akeley and the country tributary.

Hugh J. Hughes told the farmers that "the first place I struck in Akeley I was informed that the best potatoes grown in the country were raised tributary to Akeley and I have received the same confidential information in the last 50 Northern Minnesota towns I have visited—and he here it, too." The road is expected to prepare for a new era of development as a result of recent relinquishment of federal control. A tentative program already has begun.

One of the biggest projects is said to be preparation for development of oil fields in Montana where oil was recently discovered. The Northern Pacific owns 3,000,000 acres of land in Montana granted by the government many years ago. All this land can be withdrawn from the market following the oil find.

'ALMOST,' BUT NOT THE "SAME" PRICE

In the second of a series of advertisements running in the Brainerd Daily Dispatch, the Dispatch made a survey by stating that "large amount of oranges were to be sold at the same price as the small ones."

The line should have read "Almost the same price." The difference in price is very small and it will pay a consumer to buy the larger size. The selling campaign conducted by the Brainerd Fruit Co. is "bearing fruit" in large measure and is due to close to 120 boxes have been sold in the city and 200 in surrounding towns.

Selling oranges by the box is a novelty for retailers, but the advertising is educating people to buy in his revised manner. Children especially hail it with delight as a return to the days when father used to buy apples by the barrel and other commodities in bulk.

ADVERTISE IN THE DISPATCH

TIME CONGRESS DID SOMETHING

J. H. Allen of Des Moines "Talks Turkey" to Senate Committee on Banking and Currency.

AID FOR AGRICULTURE DUE

Joint Stock Land Banks Have Reduced Interest Rates on Farm Mortgages From One End of Country to the Other.

"The use of subsidies has been and is an established custom or function of this government," said Joseph H. Allen of Des Moines, Ia., in appearing before the senate committee on banking and currency to protest against the tax on farm mortgage bonds.

"Those of us who are Republicans know that for many generations we held out to the farmers that we were levying tariffs for the purpose of building up manufacturing interests in the East that we might create a home market for the Iowa farmers' products. I had this instilled into me from the time I was a child. The further proposition of subsidies can be traced in the upbuilding of our railroad interests. For generations we granted subsidies to the railroads in the form of public lands, and now the development of these lands is making the railroad property today valuable.

First Aid to Agriculture.

"Now for the first time in history agriculture has received, as I am willing to call it, a subsidy. The farm loan act permits joint stock land banks to issue farm mortgage bonds which are exempt from taxation. Never before in the history of this country has agriculture received a single thing in the form of direct subsidy.

J. H. Allen.

The question now is: Does agriculture get the benefit of the subsidy—the benefit of this tax exemption?

"The joint stock land banks claim that agriculture is benefited. They claim that the government and that the people as a whole will be more than compensated by the increased production and by the lowering of the cost of living.

"Agriculture requires a different kind of financing than that required for commercial business. We have large commercial banks the country over that provide millions of dollars of liquid capital for commercial business without income tax or any expense whatever excepting what the bank may levy. Now a farmer wants to finance his farm for the production of cattle, he wants money to build up a herd of thoroughbred cattle. He goes to his banker and says: 'I need $10,000.' The banker says: 'All right, I will finance you.' The banker writes out a note for six months.

Long-Time Loans Needed.

"Now can you imagine a man, upon a six months' accommodation, going into an industry or business that cannot be really developed short of five to ten years? And yet the farm is a factory and nothing else. No man would undertake to build up a great manufacturing business depending upon his ability to get capital upon six months' renewal basis. A manufacturer has to have his short-time accommodations for liquid capital required. But his permanent capital, the thing which makes the base of his factory, must be obtained for a long period of years.

"The farmer wanting that kind of capital must go to a commercial bank and get it, and he must get it on a six months' renewal. So he is subject, like the commercial man who makes his turnover every 60 or 90 days or at least every six months, to the same loss with reference to the money conditions. That is an impossible condition for the farmer. Many a man who has produced meat, for instance, has been compelled to sacrifice his herd in straitened times at an absolute loss, and many times at so great a loss as to almost bankrupt him."

Joint Stock Land Banks Help.

"We are carrying the money from the investor to the producer at a less charge than any other system ever has done. We have cheapened the rate of interest for farmers from one end of the country to the other."

AMUSEMENTS

WILLIAM FARNUM
DIRECTION WILLIAM FOX

At the New Park Theatre

The admirers of William Farnum—and that includes everyone who has ever seen his superb acting—will have another opportunity to see him here—and in a role that throws his genius into strong relief—at the New Park theatre.

presents Victor Hugo's immortal story "Les Misérables." The first performance will take place tonight. The story of this remarkable book is sufficiently strong and colorful to draw fully upon Farnum's versatility as an actor. In the role of Jean Valjean he portrays the long and varied career of a son of toil, driven by poverty to theft, and imprisoned for many years in atonement. Upon leaving his dungeon he is forced to cope with the world he has learned to hate. But fortune plays him many pranks. Above all, it brings back the milk of human kindness to his nature, and brings love into his life in the form of Cosette, to whose happiness he dedicates his life. However, the shadow of his old life is ever behind him, as persistent as fate.

William Farnum is said to have surpassed all his previous triumphs in "Les Misérables."

At the Best Theatre

"God's Man," the super-photoplay production, which has been heralded wherever shown with the superlative degree of praise is truly a wonderful picture presentation.

Presenting a vivid story of New York's Broadway and night life, it abounds with replica sets of cabarets, the dives of the "Sons of Subterranean," and the rendezvous of the "Scarlet Host."

Superbly beautiful are the exterior scenes which are profuse in the production, and lavish must have been the expenditure to make the interior settings of the magnitude which they reveal.

For those who crave the thrills, there is the scene of the race course, the stirring scenes of the Crusaders, the wreck of the tramp clipper on the rocks in which Jack Sherill was nearly drowned and the heroic struggle of the hero to reach the vessel; while for those who crave the lesson, there is told a story which has never been rivalled for its potent teaching.

H. B. Warner, favorite of both stage and screen, is the star of the production, and in his support is a tremendous cast.

"God's Man" is shown at the Best theatre, direct from its New York successful run for the last time today.

At the Best Wednesday

No less eminent an author than Richard Harding Davis, assisted by Jules Eckert Goodman, wrote the story for "The Trap," which comes to the Best Theatre with beautiful Olive Tell in the leading feminine role.

New Park Thursday

Katherine MacDonald, "The American Beauty," will be seen in her latest picture, "The Beauty Market," at the New Park Theatre, commencing Thursday.

Miss MacDonald was brought to the attention of photoplay fans by her work in "The Woman Thou Gavest Me." She was last seen here in her sensational success, "The Thunderbolt." The current picture is declared to be her greatest work thus far.

This Church and Pastor Found Way to Attract Young People

The Redwood Falls Methodist Episcopal church, shown above, makes a specialty of community service. The inset is a picture of the pastor, the Rev. E. C. Horn, who is the moving force in many enterprises in his community.

The Rev. E. C. Horn, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Redwood Falls, Minn., is the man who solved the problem which had long troubled religious and social leaders of the community—the problem of guiding the young folks in their recreational activities, and providing their elders with opportunities for more stimulating social intercourse.

A community building, under the supervision of the church, but available to all social and religious groups, is now the friendly center of Redwood Falls.

A rented building has served for the past three years, but a new building is being planned, which will cost over $100,000.

A women's restroom, emergency hospital room, bowling alleys, shower baths, gymnasium, and spectators' gallery are some of the present features.

A community motion picture machine is soon to be purchased.

Mr. Horn's years of experience in supervising work and directing community surveys over large areas led to his selection by the Interchurch World Movement as chairman of the county committee on surveys.

Here are some of Mr. Horn's other activities: president of Minnesota Epworth League, and of St. Paul Area Epworth League, which embraces Wisconsin, Minnesota, and South Dakota; dean and manager, Lake Minnetonka Institute; editor of a paper reaching 15 states and Canada; superintendent of a centenary department covering 10 counties; chairman of evangelistic groups in four counties; and county chairman for the Fatherless Children of Europe, an organization which has a record of 93 adoptions to date.

REPORT OF SCHOOLS FOR MONTH OF MARCH

Brainerd Has the Largest School Enrollment of Any City in State of Her Size

SMALLEST ASSESSED VALUATION
Superintendent Urges the Securing of Legislation to Relieve Situation

BY W. C. COBB.

(Superintendent of City Schools)
On account of the Easter vacation coming at the close of a school month and the press of other school duties, the school report for March is published rather late at this time.

The total enrollment for the year up to the time of our Easter vacation was 1,938, which was the total enrollment at the close of school in June of last year. This indicates a slight increase in number of pupils for the present year over that of last year, but the increase will be only slight as the new entries for the last two months are necessarily small. It may be of interest to Brainerd readers to note that the total number of pupils enrolled in our city schools, including both high school and grades is taken from the published annual report of the State High School Inspector, is larger than that of any of the following cities in Minnesota: Albert Lea, Austin, Bemidji, Crookston, Cloquet, Paribault, Little Falls, Mankato, Owatonna, Red Wing, Perseus Falls, Rochester, St. Cloud, St. Paul, Stillwater, Two Harbors. While this does not indicate that the population of Brainerd is greater than all of the above named towns, it does indicate, if the figures in the published report of the state for last year are correct, that Brainerd has more children to care for in an educational way in the public schools than any of the above cities, that Brainerd has a school enrollment greater by four hundred than the average for all of the above cities and greater by one hundred than its nearest competitor in the list, Albert Lea.

The assessed valuation of Brainerd property is nearly $1,000,000 less than the average for the above named cities and is less by nearly $4,000,000 than several in the above group, and the above facts and conditions present a peculiar and difficult problem in connection with the pressing needs of school building facilities and additional teaching force urgently needed, particularly in the high school department.

Brainerd as a municipality should exert every possible influence at the next session of the legislature to secure some relief through a division or partial distribution of the gross earnings railroad tax of the state. A strong effort by all forces interested in the welfare of Brainerd and working in co-operation with other towns similarly affected ought to be started very soon.

A complete re-organization of the plans for the distribution for special state aid is being formulated for presentation to the next legislature and may afford some relief to cities such as Brainerd, but at best this relief can only be slight compared to increasing cost of conducting a school under present conditions.

At the recent meeting of superintendents in Minneapolis, the state commissioner of education and the state high school inspector announced and explained the provisions of a Part-Time Educational Bill, which will be presented by the state department before the next session of the legislature and seems likely of passage. This measure is part of the general Part Time Schooling Measure of the United States government and, if passed by the Minnesota legislature, would require part-time instruction through the public schools of all children under 18 years of age for approximately one hour per day, or 180 hours per year.

During the past month, the first year sewing class of the high school in charge of Miss Grinols conducted a very interesting, creditable, and sensible exhibit of their sewing work. Their mothers were invited to the school and each girl wore an outfit made by herself, and well made too, with total cost including everything by way of material written on a tag that was worn by each girl. The work was highly creditable both to the pupils and the teachers.

The first year class in cooking in charge of Miss MacEwen, have been no less active and practical in their cooking work than have the sewing girls. Each girl has been given practice in the planning, purchasing and preparing of a meal, and a good one at that, at a cost not to exceed 35c per plate. Parents, teachers, and other guests were invited to pass upon the girls' efforts and were charged the actual cost of 35c for the dinner. The dinner served would rival most of the $1.00 per plate banquets customarily served.

The manual training department, in charge of Wm. Marker, is planning to put on an exhibit of cabinet work and mechanical drawings, for the inspection of parents and others interested, sometime before the close of the school year. During the present school year, a larger amount of high grade furniture has been completed by the students in the advanced classes than in any previous years. A few weeks since two experienced cabinet makers, residents of Brainerd, visited this department and passed very favorable comment on the quality of the work being done by comparatively young students.

The first year science class conducted by Principal M. B. Scherich of the high school, is devoting two days a week of their time to the First Aid Course outlined by the American Red Cross and plan to complete the entire course for certificates by the end of the school year. Mr. Scherich has previously had special training for this particular work, and no more sensible or practical work in this day of accidents and emergencies could be offered to school children mature enough to receive it.

Commencement exercises this year will probably be held on Monday, May 31st. The graduating class will number between fifty to sixty. The class hopes to install its memorial, purchased from proceeds of the class play, in the assembly room before the close of school. As a work of art, it will be a most creditable addition.

Sun's Immensity.

The sun, which is by no means a large star, as stars go, could easily contain within its boundaries the entire earth and moon and the distance between them, says the Scientific American. In fact, three systems like that consisting of earth and moon could be strung out in a row through the center of the sun, without coming within 50,000 miles of his surface on either side.

Give the World Your Best.

The way to success lies away from crape-hanging methods. The world wants sunshine. It also wants to think that people it trusts are getting along in the world. The "be your best" habit is innate and is sure to come out when we want to impress people. That's why the young man puts on his best suit and tie when he's going out to call on the fair one. That's why maidens of every age make you wait until they "lick-up" before you are permitted to cast eyes upon them. Oh, life is a great game, and it wants the best you have. It wants sunshine. It looks upon showers as blessings and clouds as protection from frosts. It feels the thrill of life and responds to the challenge of opportunity. And what is more a fellow feels better for having met it. Lead no willing ears to the crape hanger. The world has no legitimate place for the crape hanger.—Grit.

HUSBAND FIGHTS FOR HIS BRIDE

Now Faces Murder Charge for Killing Bandit Who Abducted Woman.

Chicago.—The strange story of how a pretty bride of a few months was kidnapped by a band of thieves, held prisoner until her husband rescued her and how later the husband was forced to kill one of the gang while protecting a small boy, will form an interesting chapter in the records of criminal court hearings when the case comes to trial.

Oscar Engstrom is charged with murder, Engstrom and his young bride were living on a two-acre tract near Engstrom Killed the Leader.

Posen, Ill. The husband was making a good living, selling automobiles, and the wife worked the little truck farm.

Their nearest neighbors, with one exception, were several miles distant. There were two sons at the nearest neighbors, and men of rough character began to visit this place. One day, when the husband was absent, these men abducted his bride. Several days later he found her at the other house and, after a hard fight, rescued her and took her home.

A few evenings later a six-year-old boy came to Engstrom's home and begged to be taken in, as the men had threatened to kill him for telling Engstrom where they had hidden his wife. Two members of the gang came after the boy and in the ensuing fight, Engstrom killed the leader. Police say all the gang are murderers and fugitives from justice and that the house was a resort and hiding place for a notorious gang of professional murderers, many of whom are now in custody and awaiting trial.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful hair requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Less Than a Nickel a Week

This is all that Swift & Company's profit cost the average American family in 1919.

Here are the figures and authorities for them.

The average consumption of meat per person for a year is about 180 pounds (U. S. Government).

The average American family is 4½ persons (U. S. Census).

Swift & Company's profit from all sources in 1919 averaged less than ¼ cent per pound on all products including meat.

This averages for the family less than the price of—

- 1 cigar per week for father, or
- 1 street car fare per week for mother, or
- 1 package of gum per week for the children.

The complex service which we furnish the public is efficient and economical. The cost to the public in the shape of profit is too small to be noticeable in the family meat bill.

"Juniper Point" as Summer White House

Crane Estate, Where Wilson Will Spend Vacation, is on Isolated
Spot on Woods Hole Cape

(By United Press)

Woods Hole, Mass., April 13.—The natural advantages of Juniper Point and Woods Hole make it possible for President Wilson to spend an idyllic and care-free summer at the beautiful seashore residence of Charles R. Crane, Minister to China.

Every preparation is being made today for the summer to be one of recreation with the least possible exertion. The Mayflower is to be brought here soon after the party arrives, it was announced, and the president will have an opportunity to enjoy ideal yachting conditions.

There are fine roads and drives around the estate where the president may motor and within the grounds are delightful walks through quaint gardens and pagodas.

Three championship tennis courts are found near the house where this kind of sport may be witnessed and when his health permits the president may be allowed to make several holes of golf on a private course near at hand.

The presidential party is expected to arrive sometime in May to remain until September, as it was the wish of Dr. Grayson and Mrs. Wilson to have the president away from Washington during the hot summer months.

Juniper Point, the Crane estate, is located within a grove of cedars in the more isolated part of the cape, and amid primitive surroundings. The house itself is on a promontory overlooking Buzzards Bay and Vineyard sound. From the veranda Nantucket shoals can be discerned and south the ocean stretches off toward Europe.

A conservatory is located near the house filled with innumerable varieties of plant life. On the hills there is a rose garden with its many romantic attachments and in June it will be brilliant with color from crimson ramblers and a varied assortment of rare specimens.

The Oriental garden is the most noted one of the Crane estate. In it are found many exotic and fragrant flowers and Japanese cherry trees festooned with hanging cherry blossoms. Thousands of gold fish dart about in the sunken pools beneath the bridges and pagodas.

Almost every room of the house commands a magnificent view of the bay or the sound. The room which is expected to be occupied by the president looks out on one side toward the sea and on another to the channel and the rocky Nantucket Island.

The bed chamber selected for Mrs. Wilson is airy and bright with a window seat running along the full length of a wide casement window opening upon the ocean. A private library and parlor furnished with comfortable arm chairs is located on the first floor with an entrance to a secluded side porch on the breezy side of the estate. It is here the president's family is expected to pass a greater part of the time.

Every one of the 25 rooms is swept by cool ocean breezes all summer long and flooded with sunshine throughout the entire day.

A tower and cupola over the building itself give a fine view of the country round about. From this vantage

Makes Graceful Swan
Dives of 125 Feet Into
Tank Twice Every Day

Miss Helen Carr

Twice a day Miss Helen Carr makes a perfect swan dive of 125 feet into a tank in a New York playhouse. She has established a record of 174 successive dives and while preparing for her 175th plunge discovered that she could not see out of her right eye. Rather than disappoint the audience she took a chance and made the dive successfully. Miss Carr then was operated on and the eye trouble disappeared. She has resumed her diving.

point can be seen the shoals to the east, Woods Hole channel, Nonomanet Point and the surrounding estates. One of these is owned by Secretary of the Treasury Houston.

Albert Swain, Jr., superintendent of the estate, and Edward Smithers, chief of the White House staff, are supervising the task of preparation to receive the presidential party.

Everything is being put in readiness to care for the White House visitors. James Goodfellow, best known landscape and market garden expert in the vicinity, is setting out an extra supply of bulbs and seeds. Goodfellow trained under a famous Scotch gardener named Wilson. Many prize vegetables are the result of his horticultural ability and the distinguished guests will be self-sustaining as far as garden produce is concerned.

Other members of the White House staff are in the village making arrangements to house the clerical force 300 strong, to accompany the president here. With Secretary Tumulty and his assistants, they are expected to conduct the administrative affairs of the government within close range of the summer White House.

According to present plans the Marine Biological laboratory will be used for the executive offices although difficulties are faced here in disposing of the 400 or more students who spend the summer at the laboratory.

Neither Falmouth nor Woods Hole have housing equipment sufficient to take care of a 100 per cent increase in population. The all year round population of both towns is said to be about 300.

The citizens of Falmouth have pledged themselves to stand in readiness to assist in any way possible and to provide for the comfort of the clerical force from Washington.

Another building some distance from the estate is the United States Fish Hatcheries which might easily be obtained as the executive headquarters.

By far the most important preparations will be made between now and the time of arrival of the president and his party. It may be necessary, in case the right sort of quarters are not found, to erect temporary quarters or to make alteration in the buildings available, it was stated.

Another factor will be the installation of wire facilities for telephone and telegraph which will take some time as the present equipment is far from adequate.

Transportation and hotel accommodations are not what they undoubtedly will be when the new executive department is in full swing. Three trains and two steamboats, at present, arrive and depart daily. Woods Hole is the terminal spur on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad which connects with the main line trains from north, west and south

(By United Press)

Washington, April 13.—President Wilson has decided to cancel his plans for making use of the estate at Woods Hole, Mass., as his summer home.

Aid Asked For Robins

"Stay, little cheerful robin, stay,
And at my casement sing,
Though 't should prove a farewell lay
And this our parting spring."

"Then, little bird, this noon confer,
Come and my requiem sing,
Nor fail to be the harbinger
Of everlasting spring."
—Wordsworth.

To save the robin, long the pet of the household gods, from the pinch of hunger and wintry blasts, the St. Paul Humane society issued an appeal to the public recently.

April blizzards have turned seasons around for the robins, who came to St. Paul by the scores during the recent warm days. The autumn days, which usually drive the robin to shelter about the doors, are coming in spring this time, the robin finds.

The ground is frozen and covered with snow, and the robins and wild canaries, who have come back to us on their annual visit a little too soon, are having trouble finding anything to eat.

Throw out crumbs for the birds to eat, is the appeal of the Humane society.

Song and story long have endeared the robin as a friend of man. There is the legend that the robin and the wren cover with leaves the "friendless bodies of unburied men."

And there's the pretty story of how the breast of the robin came to be red. As Christ, toiled up Mount Calvary, the singing of the birds stopped, goes the legend, and the robin with his beak pulled a thorn from his crown. The blood ran down from the robin's beak, and ever after his breast was red.

So run the stories.

There'll be plenty of crumbs when the people find out that Robin Red-breast is hungry.

The above from the St. Paul Daily News applies equally well to Brainerd.

Throw out crumbs for the birds to eat, putting the same where they will not freeze, and save the birds.

RELICS OF ANCIENT TRAGEDY

Camper in California Makes Interesting Discovery in Pinon Mining District.

Whitewater, Cal.—While on a camping trip in the Painted Hills in the Pinon mining district, northeast of here, O. I. Kennedy of San Bernardino discovered what may prove to be the relics of a 100-year-old tragedy.

In an inaccessible spot, but one distinctly visible from the foot trail, in the face of the mountain, he discovered a musket and a row of Indian water vessels. On examining the weapon through a high-power glass, it proved to be a flintlock of ancient design, and Kennedy believes from the peculiar formation of the stock it is of Spanish origin.

Kennedy expects to return in a short time with a supply of ropes by which he will have himself lowered into the dry sea cavern where the relics were discovered. He brought with him samples of large sea shells, which he gathered on the edge of a great deposit of shells located at an altitude of 2,050 feet.

Used Body to Stop Leak: Saved Lives of the Crew

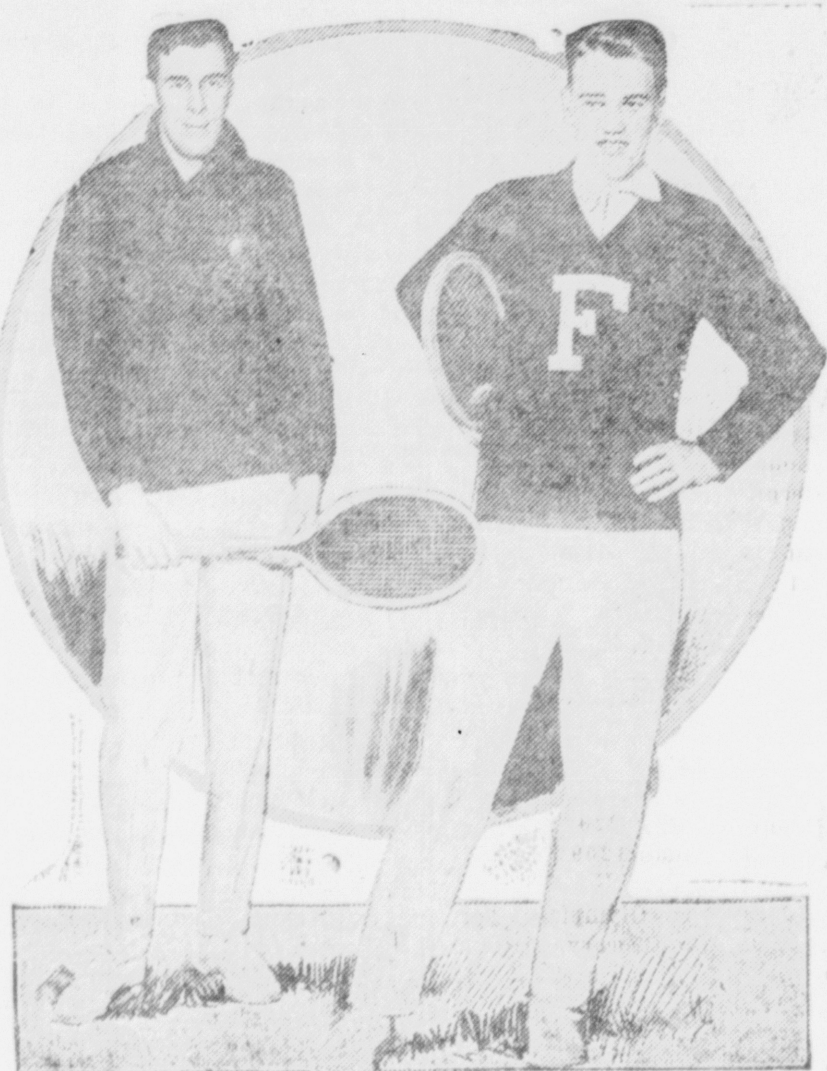

When the trawler Clara ran on the rocks at the harbor entrance at Plymouth, England, in a fog and stove a hole in her side, one of the seamen stopped the great rent with his body and enabled the boat to keep afloat until help came, thereby saving the lives of his comrades. The sailor remained, waist-deep in water, for four hours until the boat was towed into harbor.

Woman "Buys" Husband.

Hagerstown, Md.—Peter Guy, the gypsy, who, at Des Moines, Ia., was "bought" from his wife by another woman several days ago, is well known in Hagerstown.

The bill of sale was drawn up by an attorney of Des Moines and placed on record. By the terms of the "sale" the new wife gave the former Mrs. Guy $5,000 in gold for Guy. Apparently Guy had been transferred in a similar manner before, for Mrs. Guy No. 1 told the attorney who drew up the papers that she paid $5,000 for him.

Winner of National Singles Tennis Title and Champion He Defeated

William T. Tilden won double honors in the national indoor lawn tennis championships decided recently in New York. In the singles he won the title by defeating the champion, Vincent Richards, 10-8, 6-3, 6-1. Last year Richards won the title by beating Tilden in the finals. After defeating Richards this year, Tilden and Richards were paired in the finals in doubles and won the title by defeating S. Howard Voshell and Samuel Hardy 6-3, 3-6, 12-10.

Doves Hatched Hen's Egg.

A novel experiment of Mrs. Ernest Hirsch of Pittsburgh, has proved a success. Two doves owned by Mrs. Hirsch, after three weeks of waiting, became the foster parents of a baby chicken. Several weeks ago Mrs. Hirsch, as an experiment, placed a full-sized hen's egg under the mother dove. At the time she did not believe the dove would hatch the egg, and day after day watched the nest expecting the dove to leave the nest. However, the birds alternated in sitting upon the egg, and finally their patience was rewarded. A "chick" pecked its way out of the shell and immediately tried to get out of the nest.

Crape Hangers.

Crape hangers are the wheel spraggers of moral progress. We could get along very well without them, but they conscientiously stay with us and see to it that we are made to feel all the ills that human flesh is heir to. Just as soon as a brighter horizon appears we are assured of clouds later in the day. As bearers of ill tidings crows and ravens are mild in comparison. They continually "take the joy out of life" by calling attention to what may never happen, or what might not occasion any concern if it did happen. The whole bunch are a contaminating set and deserve to be ordered on whenever they stop to exercise themselves.

ELKS EASTER DANCE

Brilliant Function Given at Citizens State Bank Hall, Beautiful Decorations

The Easteride ball given by the Brainerd Lodge of Elks No. 615 Monday evening at the Citizens State bank hall was a brilliant social event and largely attended. The hall was beautifully decorated in streamers and festoons of purple and white, the Elks colors, and light green, symbolic of spring's return.

The Blue Ribbon orchestra, ensconced in a section in the center of the hall, discoursed sweet music and was liberal with its encores. The gowns worn by the ladies showed pretty Easter finery. The affair approached the formal stage, many of the gentlemen wearing dress suits.

The committee headed by Harry J. Carlson worked valiantly to attain a good record and scored a distinct success. Many lodge members and friends of the orders assisted the committee.

Frappe was served from a gayly decorated bower in charge of young girls. Dancing continued until 1 o'clock in the morning.

WHITE BROS. SELL THEIR BUSINESS

Purchased by a New Corporation Formed, the Alderman-Maghan Corporation of City

TRANSFER OCCURS ON MAY 1ST

White Brothers to Retire After Years Of Merchandising. New Firm are Young Business Men

White Brothers, the oldest, and one of the leading hardware firms in the city have just closed negotiations for the sale of their entire business and good will, to become effective May 1st. With its passing, goes a firm connected with the very earliest history of the city, both I. U. White and C. B. White being numbered among the oldest residents. They have always maintained a reputation for quality merchandise and fair dealing which is unsalable.

The purchasers are James H. Alderman, Amos J. Maghan and Henry C. Mills, all of them prominent and successful business men of this city. Mr. Alderman and Mr. Maghan were connected for a number of years with D. M. Clark and Company and their ability and popularity contributed to a large extent to the success of that firm. They will give their personal attention to the business, and as they have a host of friends, the future outlook for the business is bright. Mr. Mills will devote a portion of his time to the business, but for the present will continue his travelling position as jobbers representative. A corporation is being formed, under which the new company will operate as the Alderman-Maghan Hardware Company.

BENTALL CASE TO JURY ON MONDAY

Minneapolis, April 13—The case of Jacob O. Bentall, former socialist candidate for governor of Minnesota, who is being tried in the United States district court here on a charge of violation of the espionage act, went to the jury at noon Monday. The only piece of evidence offered in the Bentall defense was a copy of a petition opposing the conscription act which the defense alleged was the purpose of Bentall's speech at Hutchinson, the night of July 31.

Note—Bentall served a year's sentence in the county jail at Brainerd on the charge of draft obstruction.

PULLING BASEBALL TEAM OUT OF HOLE

Starting with four $5 donations and a five from former Mayor R. A. Beise which did that much towards pulling the Brainerd baseball team out of last season's hole, there a lull and folks thought the project had tumbled back into the general hole.

Today D. D. Schrader, general all around booster and financial agent for everything that needs pushing from churches to potato exchanges, stepped in and gave the Dispatch $5 to help the club.

It only takes a "V" to join the $5 club. With cash on hand in the bank of $30 and previously raised by this public subscription, the club is now short just $233.31.

Here is the showing of cash on hand:

In bank	$20.00

The water is fine, jump in and help the team. After the old debt is cleared up all energies will be bent towards putting in a championship team for this season.

To show you what Little Falls is doing for a team which did not win championship honors last year. One firm there gave $250. Little Falls expects to raise $3,000 for a semi-pro team this year.

Brainerd last year was given the finest kind of baseball, winning pennant of the Central Minnesota Baseball League, the Brainerd-Ironton series and being a close contender with Stillwater for the semi-pro championship of the state. What more could you expect from a team? Had Stillwater been beaten, Brainerd probably would have to tackle a big league team before the contests closed for 1920.

THE BAPTISTS

The members and friends of the Baptist church have accomplished a task which seems almost incredible for a congregation of the size and financial strength of this church to pledge $50,000 for a building to properly care for the religious education of their youth, and $10,000 for the missionary enterprises of the general church, in addition to assuming over $15,000 for the current expenses of the church during the five year period covering the time of payment of these pledges, raises the question "why" such devotion in these days when the church of Christ has not been as dominant as its friends have desired that it might be.

The local congregation of this church has caught the spirit which is pervading the churches today generally and have put this spirit into action as very few churches have one.

The world war discredited other theories for the safe conduct of the world than the simple one taught by the Man of Galilee which the world has been so slow in accepting. The churches maintain that if men will first accept God's will concerning their own lives and then put this spirit into national and world affairs, that this and this only, will solve the world's problems whether they be political, commercial, social or whatever they may be.

The Baptists will erect a modern plant for the efficient teaching of their children the plans of God for their lives and their part in the world. They have learned that this cannot be done in religious education any more than it can be in so-called secular education without proper equipment and devotion on the part of the workers.

The action they have taken is timely. Their success and devotion will doubtless inspire other churches to attempt large undertakings.

The city has no force so potent for moral and civic righteousness as the active church of Christ and it is hoped that other churches will follow their splendid leadings. The Baptists are to be congratulated for their success and thanked for their inspiration.

Details of Accident to Donovan

The Transcript has received more details of the accident which befell Harry Donovan on March 12, and in which the former Little Falls boy suffered injuries which necessitated the amputation of one leg. Mr. Donovan's sister, writing to the "Transcript" from Minneapolis says of the accident:

"Harry was out at Bound Brook, New Jersey, on business, and at 10 p. m. in getting on a train for home slipped on some snow on the car steps just as the train started. He fell under the wheels and was dragged 100 feet. His left foot was so badly crushed that it had to be amputated between the knee and ankle. He was terribly bruised and hurt from being dragged. There will have to be a skin-grafting operation later on when he is better.

"He has had a hard fight for life as infection set in in the injured leg. He is slightly improved now, but will be in the hospital for a month or six weeks more. His address is 255 West 108th street, New York City, Apt. 2-E, The Manchester.

"No one saw the accident happen and there was no one to help him. He managed to get his belt off and tied up his leg to stop the flow of blood. After a while his calls for help were heard by some section men who carried him into the station.

"Through it all he has had the greatest courage and nerve, as his friends would expect.

"I am sure he would be glad to hear from you. I have given you his home address. His wife takes his mail to him at the hospital."

Mr. Donovan left Little Falls about 17 years ago and has held a responsible position as an official of a company in New York since—Little Falls Transcript.

Ancient Grains.

The United States department of agriculture gives a hard knock to assertions about the germination of wheat and other cereals found wrapped with ancient Egyptian mummies. It states that close investigation proves all such reports to be fictitious. French tests show that grain more than a few years old will not germinate. German tests indicate that when seed are kept under ideal conditions, wheat, barley and oats may germinate up to eight or ten years, but few if any grains are alive after 20 years.

CHEAPEST FEED FOR FLOCK OF CHICKENS

Corn Is Favored in Nearly All Parts of United States.

Favorite Grains Used by Many Poultry Keepers Without Considering Quality or Possibility of Cheaper Substitute.

Farmers, as a rule, feed their poultry the grain that is cheapest on the farm that year. Many poultry specialists and most small poultry keepers use their favorite poultry feeds without considering either the quality of the supply or the possibility of using cheaper substitutes.

Under normal conditions, corn is the cheapest poultry feed, in nearly all parts of the United States, say poultry specialists of the United States department of agriculture. During the past year oats have been in nearly every locality cheaper than corn. When corn goes down to $1.50 a bushel, oats should be 75 cents and barley $1.20 a bushel to give the same value as poultry feed.

Oats, with the hulls on, contain more indigestible matter than corn, and the indigestible hulls also make oats less palatable to poultry and of less feeding value. An average sample of oats should be valued at about 12 to 15 per cent less than a good sample of cracked corn. The best wheat usually available for poultry is not actually worth more as a poultry feed than good cracked corn. Low-grade and damaged grains are suitable for poultry feed if birds in good condition will eat them readily.

DEADLY FOE OF LAZY FOWLS

Trap Nests Point Out Accurately Laying Ability of Individual Hens in Flock.

Trap nests are the deadly foe of the lazy hen. When they are used, no amount of cackling and appearance of industry can conceal the fact that she isn't delivering the goods. They are the one accurate way by which the owner of a flock can check up on the laying ability of the individual hens.

Besides being valuable in locating the drones, the department of agriculture specialists say their use is advisable for the following additional reasons:

They help to make the birds tame, thereby tending toward increased egg production.

They furnish definite knowledge concerning the egg production of individual fowls.

They furnish the most satisfactory basis for utility or other breeding.

They show which hen lays each individual egg, thus furnishing the essential basis for pedigree breeding.

FIRST ATTEMPT AT POULTRY

Safest for Beginner to Start With Few Fowls and Learn the Business Thoroughly.

The safest way for those who are about to make their first attempt at poultry raising is to start in a small way with a few fowls and learn the business thoroughly before making large investments, says the United States department of agriculture. Mistakes will be made and many difficult problems will be presented for solution before success in any large measure will be attained. As soon as it is found to be a paying investment, more capital may be put into the plant.

CEMENT FLOORS FOR HOUSES

Especially Satisfactory for Large Poultry Buildings as They Are Easily Cleaned.

Cement floors, especially for large poultry houses, are quite satisfactory, as they keep rats out and also last much longer than board floors, says the United States department of agriculture. They are also sanitary and easy to clean but are harder and more expensive to build than wooden floors. A cement floor should always be kept well covered with litter; otherwise it is cold and uncomfortable for the birds.

POULTRY NOTES

Proper care and food solve the egg problem.

Musty grain is more expensive than good stuff in the end.

The busy hen is the one that shells out the most eggs.

Variety in feeding is very important. "Variety is the spice of life" to hens as well as to humans.

Excessive fat often causes apoplexy or egg-bound. Corn alone makes hens too fat. Remember that.

There is little profit and satisfaction for the poultry-raiser who does not keep his fowls properly housed and comfortable in winter.

If efforts were made to dispose of all hens when their best laying days were over a large quantity of poultry meat would be placed on the market.

PREPARE FOR NEW BUILDINGS

Best Time to Make Preparations for Contemplated Structures Is in Late Winter.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Late winter is the best time to make plans and preparations for any building which is contemplated. This will assure the presence of the material when needed, and will permit the making of favorable contracts which would be difficult to consummate when the rush of spring work begins. As the coming season promises to be a busy one in the building line, every farmer who wishes to build is urged by the federal department to "shake a leg" and get his plans under way.

Now is the time to prepare hog houses for the spring crop of pigs. Repair where necessary, so as to minimize pig mortality due to inadequate shelter. Thousands of new-born pigs are lost each season due to unsatisfactory housing. Weather-proof houses will save money.

The late winter also is a propitious time for the building of new and repairing old fences. Worn-out posts and wire should be replaced where necessary to make the fields stock-tight. If possible the supply of posts should be cut on the farm or purchased from a neighbor. Osage orange, locust, cedar and chestnut posts are satisfactory for permanent fences. It is a good practice to peel the posts and dip the butts in creosote for preservative purposes.

The wise and frugal farmer plies the paint brush during the spare time of spring and fall, as he understands the dual value of paint in protecting against decay and weathering and in improving the sightliness of the farm buildings.
